It is not likely that the Evansville will be succeeded by another boat in the Wheeling and Newport trade, at least not soon. A number of Wheeling people will make the trip to Momphis and return provided the river continues at a navigable stage.

Captain Martin, of the Davis Island dam, says the wickets will be entirely raised this evening. This will make the usual stage of 6 feet of water in the harbor by Wednesday, as it will take until that time to get the pools filled.
The river has fallen two feet during the past forty-eight hours, and unless there is a heavy rain soon navigation will be entirely suspended. The raising of the wickets will cause the river to fall con-siderable below the dam this ovening, and a slight rise below will take place after the pool is filled.—Chronicle Tele-

The Ben Hur is taking an excursion of Knights Templar from several interior towns from Parkersburg to Charleston. For this reason the Klaine will be up this morning for Pittsburgh in place of the Ben.

The marks at 6 p. m. showed 5 feet 2 inches and falling. The setting of the wickets at Dayls Island caused a rather sudden fall, but now that the harbor at Pittsburgh has filled up again there will be a slight rise here. But the navigable stage is too scant for comfort, and it is generally hoped there will be a good soaking rain soon so that an eight or ten foot stage will be the result.
